

Diabolical insinuations

I trust it was entirely accidental that the review of Locus of Authority: The Evolution of Faculty Roles in the Governance of Higher Education (Books, 26 February) was followed by the review of The Devil Wins, a learned treatise on the “vagaries of lying and self-deception”. Only the Devil himself could insinuate a connection between such disparate features of university’s life.

Anna Notaro
Duncan of Jordanstone College of Art and Design
University of Dundee

SEND TO

Letters should be sent to:
 Times Higher Education
 26 Red Lion Square
 London WC1R 4HQ
 THE.Letters@tesglobal.com